

New PTA Officers for Halldale

By BILLIE ROBERTSON
FA 8-7888

Mrs. E. N. Reese was elected president of the Halldale School PTA at the last meeting held in March. Kay Reese has been active in school and community work for many years.

Other officers chosen to serve for the coming school year were Mrs. L. Funk, first vice president; Mrs. Guy Adams, second vice president; Mrs. E. Alves, recording secretary; Mrs. Judson Bowers, financial secretary; Mrs. E. Dye, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. Bowling, treasurer; Mrs. W. Dunston, historian; and Mrs. W. Overstreet, auditor.

The retiring president is Mrs. David Goodby. Mrs. Goodby has done a wonderful job in the past year for the Halldale School and also for the district.

Our deepest sympathy goes to the Braeken of 1430 W. 27th St. Mrs. Braeken lost his life this past week. Mrs. Braeken was a lovely woman and was loved by every one who knew her. She passed away after many months of being on the sick list.

Mr. Braeken is not feeling too good these past days. He's laid up with the flu.

Services were held for Mrs. Braeken Thursday morning at the Grace Chapel in the Inglewood cemetery.

The kits can be obtained at the playground for 25 cents. The cars are raced two at a time on a specially constructed, mechanically controlled, inclined track. ### Airman Roland Homolka Maintenance 'Man of Month'

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Homolka, 710 Border Ave., Airman Homolka has been stationed at Clovis for more than a year following a year's service in Korea.

An F-86H crew chief in the 887th Fighter-Bomber Squadron, Homolka was congratulated by Major Russell J. Christiansen, 312th Group Maintenance Officer, who said:

"When Homolka says an aircraft is ready for flight, you can rest assured that it is."

His solution
Colonel Barnett S. Davis, 312th Group Commanding Officer, added:
"When faced with unusual problems, Airman Homolka proceeds to the technical orders and studies them until he finds the solution."
"There have been several instances where all the maintenance personnel in the squadron were unable to find the trouble with a particular aircraft and Airman Homolka, after studying wiring diagrams, correctly diagnosed the trouble."

His superior
Lieutenant General William W. Moysey, Wing Commander, notified Homolka of his selection by letter.
Commander Proud
"Your exceptional record as a crew chief demonstrates the highest degree of professional knowledge, initiative, and attention to detail," General Moysey wrote. "I am proud to have men of your caliber under my command," he added.
